Updates

Santuit Preserve Update: Phyllis Miller

Phyllis indicates that a couple of weeks ago there was a conference call which included Catherine Laurent representing Mashpee, Lindsey Counsell – Chairman of CPC, Alisha Parker from Growth Management – CPC, and herself representing Barnstable. She indicates that the conference call lasted approximately an hour and fifteen minutes. She indicates that the discussion included the construction being finished by September 30, 2013 and that the state defines finished as it being completely finished, that the town has paid all the bills, the construction is completed, and that they have the reimbursement and all the paper work. She believes that Wesson & Sampson should be further along than what they are. She indicates that from April to June 15th no work can be done because the herring will be spawning. She indicates that as of today the solar panels on the pond are working better as the algae has diminished. They also discussed stop locks and engineering components on the dam. The design has to be ready by the end of September, 2012. Kris asks Phyllis about any work plans after the herring spawning period. Phyllis indicates that they are looking at windows of opportunity and once everyone gets all the paperwork in and design complete, it could be constructed during June, July and August of next year.

Pathways: Farley Lewis & Tom Mullen

Farley Lewis speaks and indicates that it appears that, for now, there is info on the Cape Cod Commission and Pathways website. She has walked the path section of the walk which she submitted which will take place on October 5th through the 8th. She believes it will be accepted as a walk that will occur on Saturday of that weekend. She has questions about overgrowth on the trail and will email Tom Mullen regarding this. She explains that the walk will start at Old Jail Lane and end there and will take perhaps 2 plus hours. Kris will follow-up on making sure that the path will be clear and that they are looking for volunteers for the walking weekend.

Kris indicates that the email from Heather McElroy which emerged as a new link on Cape Cod Commission's website: www.capecodcommission.org under quick links, walking weekend. She indicates that the information will be subject to change but there are links to a Goggle map for the walks listed so far.

Community Preservation Committee update

August 27th: Tom Mullen

As Tom Mullen is not present, Kris Clark asks Tom Lee for an update. Tom Lee indicates that with the changes to the Community Preservation Act, they think they are going to review the handbook with the latest changes and are planning to discuss at the upcoming CPC meetings. They have questions on the application that they presently have before them and will postpone discussion on any applications until the upcoming meeting.
